++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy rain on Tuesday but an improving picture on Wednesday.

Today:
Becoming increasingly cloudy as an area of rain moves northeast across the region. Light and patchy at first, the rain will become heavy and locally thundery during the afternoon, particularly in East Anglia. Rain turning to drizzle in the west. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
A dull night, any heavy rain likely to clear east early evening, followed by extensive low cloud, areas of mist and outbreaks of drizzle. Perhaps drier for some around dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Wednesday:
A damp start but an improving picture on Wednesday, bright with a few sunny spells and perhaps the odd afternoon shower. Feeling warm. A dry, largely clear evening. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Dry and bright or sunny on Thursday. Breezy, increasingly cloudy on Friday, with rain arriving from the west late. A cloudy, damp start on Saturday, then sunny spells and showers.
